

Dear Sir or Madam,

In connection with the GPSR regulation, we would like to inform you that the products we offer meet the requirements for proper labeling, which allows for the identification of the manufacturer, the product itself, as well as its production batch (production date), and special warnings and recommendations for hazardous products. This is primarily due to the fact that the CPR requirements (which have been in effect since 2011 for construction products) regulate the informational obligations outlined in the upcoming GPSR regulation.
